

Silver chloride, often used in silver plating, contains 75.27% Ag. Calculate the mass of silver chloride required to plate 275 mg of pure silver.

Solution.

$$m(\text{Ag}) = 275\text{mg} / 0.7527 = 365,35 \text{ mg}$$

Answer. 365,35 mg

Answer provided by www.AssignmentExpert.com