

Answer on Question #56606 – Math – Algebra

What type of function should be used to model the storm front?

Solution

Due to the shape of the front and how it moves along the axis, the function that should be used to model the storm front is parabola.