

Answer on Question #85428 – Math – Statistics and Probability

Question

True/False. There is no single correct answer when constructing a graphic display. The analyst's judgement and the circumstances surrounding the problem play a major role in the development of the graphic.

Solution

True.

The researcher's judgement and the circumstances surrounding the problem really play a major role in the development of the graphic.